CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION

The Judicial Appointments Advisory Board (hereafter “the Board”) was established pursuant to the amended Courts and Court Officers Act, 1995, (hereafter “the Act”). The purpose of the Board is to identify persons and inform the Government of the suitability of those persons for appointment to judicial office.

The Board consists of (Section 13 as amended by Section 12(b) of the Court of Appeal Act, 2014):

- the Chief Justice; who is Chairperson of the Board;
- the President of the Court of Appeal;
- the President of the High Court;
- the President of the Circuit Court;
- the President of the District Court;
- the Attorney General;
- a practising barrister who is nominated by the Chairperson for the time being of the Council of the Bar of Ireland;
- a practising solicitor who is nominated by the President for the time being of the Law Society of Ireland; and
- not more than three persons appointed by the Minister for Justice (hereafter “the Minister”), which are persons engaged in or having knowledge or experience of commerce, finance, administration, or persons who have experience as consumers of the service provided by the Courts that the Minister considers appropriate.

A person appointed to be a member of the Board by virtue of a nomination by the Chairperson of the Bar Council or by the President of the Law Society and persons appointed by the Minister are members of the Board for a period not exceeding three years and any such persons so appointed shall be eligible for re-appointment to the Board.

The Act (Section 14) enables the Board to adopt such procedures as it thinks fit to carry out its functions and, in the exercise of that power, the Board has adopted rules and procedures which are contained in Appendix (i) to this report. They also have power to appoint sub-committees to assist them and may:

- advertise for applications for judicial appointment;
- require applicants to complete application forms;
- consult persons concerning the suitability of applicants to the Board;
- invite persons identified by the Board to submit their names for consideration by the Board;
- arrange for the interviewing of applicants who wish to be considered by the Board for appointment to judicial office; and
- do such other things as the Board considers necessary to enable it to discharge its functions under the Act.

Section 16 of the Act deals with the submission of names to the Minister. A person who wishes to be considered for appointment to judicial office is required to so inform the Board in writing and to provide the Board with such information as it may require them to enable it to consider the suitability of that person for judicial office, including information relating to education, professional qualifications, experience and character. To assist the Board in this regard the applicants are required to complete a detailed application form which includes questions on their practice, their professional qualifications, education, character, etc., and are also required to outline on their application form why they consider themselves suitable for judicial office.

This Section goes on to provide that where a judicial office stands vacant or before a vacancy in a judicial office arises, the Board, at the request of the Minister, is to submit to the Minister the names of all persons who have informed the Board of his or her wish to be considered for appointment to that judicial office and the Board shall submit the names of at least seven persons whom it recommends for appointment. The Board must also provide the Minister with particulars of education, professional qualification, experience and character of the persons whom it recommends under this Section.

Where fewer than seven persons inform the Board of their wish to be appointed to judicial office or where the Board is unable to recommend to the Minister at least seven persons, the Board may recommend to the Minister a lesser number of persons for appointment.

Where more than one judicial office in the same Court stands vacant or in advance of more than one vacancy arising in the same Court, the Board shall recommend at least seven persons in respect of each vacancy or such lesser number of names as the Minister specifies, following consultation with the Board.

Section 16 of the Act goes on to require the Government when advising the President in relation to the appointment of a person to a judicial office to first consider persons who have been recommended by the Board. When a person is appointed on a recommendation by the Board, notice of that fact shall be published in Iris Oifigiúil.

The Board shall not submit or recommend the name of a person unless that person meets the eligibility requirements laid down by statute. Further, the Board shall not recommend the name of any person unless in the opinion of the Board the person concerned:

- has displayed in his/her practice as a barrister or solicitor, as the case may be, a degree of competence and a degree of probity appropriate to and consistent with the appointment concerned;
- is suitable on grounds of character and temperament;
- is otherwise suitable; and
- complies with the requirements of Section 19 of the Act.

Having received the advice of counsel, the Board interprets these requirements as a minimum standard. A person must have these qualities to be recommended, but having these qualities is in itself not sufficient for a person to be recommended.

Under Section 17 of the Act (as amended), the procedures set out above do not apply where the Government proposes to advise the President to appoint to judicial office a person who is for the time being a Judge of the Court of Appeal, High Court, Circuit Court (or Specialist Judge of the Circuit Court), District Court or who is eligible for appointment to the Supreme Court, Court of Appeal or the High Court under the provisions of Section 5 of the Courts (Supplemental Provisions) Act, 1961, as amended.

Section 18 of the Act provides that the Board shall not recommend its own members for appointment, with the exception of the Attorney General who must withdraw from any deliberations of the Board concerning his or her suitability for judicial office.

Section 19 of the Act requires a person who wishes to be considered for appointment to judicial office to undertake in writing to the Board his or her agreement, if appointed to judicial office, to take such course or courses of training or education, or both, as may be required by the Chief Justice or the President of the Court to which the person concerned is appointed.

Under Section 23 of the Act, where the Government proposes to advise the President of an appointment to the office of Chief Justice or President of the High Court, President of the Circuit Court or President of the District Court, it is required first to have regard to the qualifications and suitability of persons who are serving at that time as judges in Courts established in pursuance of Article 34 of the Constitution.

There have been some amendments to the procedures followed by the Board since 1995:

- a) The Standards in Public Office Act, 2001, as amended by Section 53 of the Civil Law (Miscellaneous Provisions Act), 2008, requires applicants to certify that their tax affairs are in order. Section 22 (1) prohibits the Board from recommending a person for judicial office unless the person has furnished to the Board:
 - (I) a tax clearance certificate that was issued to the person not more than eighteen months before the date of the recommendation, and
 - (II) a statutory declaration made by the person not more than three months before that date to the effect that, at the time of the making of the declaration, the person is, to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, in compliance with the obligations specified in subsection (1) of section 25 and that nothing in subsection (2) of that section prevents the issue to him or her of a tax clearance certificate.
- b) The criteria for selection to the Superior Courts has been amended by Section 12 of the Court of Appeal Act 2014.

The purpose of this amendment seems to be to ensure that solicitors and barristers appointed to the Supreme Court, Court of Appeal and High Court are sufficiently conversant with practice and procedure in the Superior Courts.

It is best to quote these directly:

Section 12 (d)(ii)

"(b) (i) The Board shall recommend a person to the Minister under this section only if the Board is of the opinion that the person:

- (I) has displayed in his or her practice as a barrister or a solicitor a degree of competence and a degree of probity appropriate to and consistent with the appointment concerned,
- (II) in the case of an appointment to the office of ordinary judge of the Supreme Court, of ordinary judge of the Court of Appeal or of ordinary judge of the High Court, has an appropriate knowledge of the decisions, and an appropriate knowledge and appropriate experience of the practice and procedure, of the Supreme Court, the Court of Appeal and the High Court,
- (III) is suitable on the grounds of character and temperament,
- (IV) complies with the requirements of section 19 of this Act, and
- (V) is otherwise suitable.

(ii) In determining whether the requirements of subparagraph (i)(II) are satisfied, the Board shall have regard, in particular, to the nature and extent of the practice of the person concerned insofar as it relates to his or her personal conduct of proceedings in the Supreme Court, the Court of Appeal and the High Court whether as an advocate or as a solicitor instructing counsel in such proceedings or both”.

A dedicated Judicial Appointments Advisory Board website www.jaab.ie contains information relating to upcoming judicial vacancies and deadlines for applications. General information is also available from the website in relation to the application process.

In the carrying out of its functions, the Board places advertisements calling on all those who wish to be considered for appointment to judicial office to apply to the Board. Additionally, all those who already have applications on file may be requested to re-apply.

There is a separate standard application form for each Court level. Each completed application form must be accompanied by thirteen original photographs. Two references must be furnished by referees directly to the Secretary and such letters must be submitted by referees and not by the applicants themselves. As previously stated, under Section 22 of the Standards in Public Office Act, 2001, as amended, the Board cannot recommend a person to the Minister unless that person has furnished to the Board the relevant tax clearance certificate issued to that person not more than eighteen months before the date of recommendation and a statutory declaration that their tax affairs are in order, made by the person not more than three months before that date. In practice, the tax clearance certificate is submitted with the application form or on the expiration of a certificate previously provided by the applicant. The Secretary to the Board communicates with all applicants to request the statutory declaration when vacancies are advertised or preceding a meeting of the Board.

The process of considering persons and submitting names to the Minister commences when the Minister communicates with the Chairperson of the Board to request recommendations where a judicial vacancy exists or is due to arise. The Chairperson then agrees a suitable date with the Secretary, who informs the members of the Board. The members are given an agenda for the meeting, including a copy of the Minister’s request (which indicates the number and jurisdiction of the vacancy(ies)) and a copy of all applications on file for the relevant jurisdiction(s).

Following the Board meeting, the Secretary to the Board corresponds with the Bar of Ireland, the Law Society of Ireland and the Legal Services Regulatory Authority , as appropriate, asking them to verify that those who are to be recommended are in good standing with those professional bodies and that they meet the statutory requirements under the Courts (Supplemental Provisions) Act, 1961, (as amended). Once a reply has been received, the Chairperson writes to the Minister, setting out the Board’s recommendations.

In December 2020, the Minister for Justice secured Government approval for the drafting of a Judicial Appointments Commission (JAC) Bill. The Bill provides for the establishment of a new nine member commission to replace the Board. Under the JAC, both serving judges and non-judges will have to apply through the Judicial Appointments Commission. The JAC will develop upgraded procedures and requirements for judicial office selection.
